ARTHUR H. BRANDENBURG

Mr. Arthur E. Brandenburg was born in Waverly, Iowa. He was Salutatorian of his high school graduating class and now holds the Master of Arts degree. He is matriculated for a Doctor of Education degree at New York University School of Education and has completed his specified course work. Over the thirty-six years he has served the field of education, Mr. Brandenburg has held positions which include that of high school principal, supervisor of music, university music instructor and his present position of Assistant Director of Instruction in Charge of Music Education in the city of Ellinwood.

His excellent organizational ability has been responsible for the formation of the first school band in Ellinwood, the first Solo and Ensemble Contest in New Jersey and the first New Jersey All-State High School Symphonic Band and Instrumental Forum some twenty-one years ago. Many pupils and organizations under Mr. Brandenburg’s direction, have won many honors on state and national levels.

He has maintained continuous contact in state and national music affairs as is attested by the many years he was chairman of the New Jersey All-State Band Forum and his election to the office of Vice President and President of the American School Band Directors Association in 1955-56. He is at present a member of the executive board of that organization and also serves as chairman on the John Philip Sousa Memorial Project which is endeavoring to restore the Sousa house in Washington, D.C. as a national shrine.

Mr. Brandenburg has many publications and articles on music to his credit. Many have appeared in national music magazines and his instrumental arrangements have been published by the major music publishers in New York.

His personal experiences in the field of music have included being solo cornetist in college and municipal bands, church organist and choirmaster and for the past sixteen years, conductor of the Ellinwood Recreation Council Band.

JAMES NELSON

James Nelson, director of the Oklahoma City University Band and Choir and Professor of instrumental music education, is recognized as one of the most outstanding musicians in the nation. He is in constant demand as an adjudicator, clinician and speaker at music clinics and meetings all over the United States.

Joining the OCU staff in 1956, the musical organizations of the University have grown tremendously under his direction. Not only have the Band and Choir expanded in numbers, but they have gained visible recognition through concert tours, performances on national radio networks and broadcast presentations over the network television service.

Besides holding the position at OCU, Mr. Nelson is also director of music for the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce. For years, before other duties interrupted this service, he was first trumpet with the Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Nelson is the co-author with Ruth Shaper of the Repertory Department of the Julliard School of Music of a music work book series, "The Music Room." He has also contributed many articles to such professional publications as "Fender," "The Instrumentalist" and "The Musician." The OCU professor is also a composer and arranger of several works.

Educated at the Chicago Musical College and Julliard, he has studied privately under William Broughton, Richard Lewellyn, Clarence Burg, Harold Marpurt, Hadley Outland and Fritz Mahler.

His professional affiliations include Phi Mu Alpha, Mu Alpha, National Arts Council, Music Teachers National Association, College Band Directors National Association and the Oklahoma Music Educators Association. A guest professor on the summer school music faculty of the University of Michigan, he is listed in "Who's Who in the South and Southeast," and is a member of the American Bandmasters Association.

Mr. Nelson came to OCU from Chicago where he had been serving as musical director of the CBS broadcast of Paul Robeson's Chicago Gospel Tabernacle. He is President of the College Band Directors National Association.

He was recently presented an honorary Doctor of Music degree from McMurry College, Abilene, Texas.

To further the cause of good music in America...

The THEODORE PRESSER COMPANY has been tireless in its efforts to present the best in music of the past and present to the musical public. In recent years the Company has made great strides in expanding its catalog, not only of teaching and recreational music, but also of operatic, symphonic, solo and ensemble literature.

America is richly endowed with natural musical resources. Composers, performers, teachers, students, listeners, in greatly increasing numbers, find more and more opportunities for the practice, expression and enjoyment of their art. An important aspect of this national musical development has been the Theodore Presser Company's acquisition of notable specialized publishing concerns. For example, the pioneering effort in behalf of the publication of music by contemporary American composers, the New Music Edition, is now a part of the Presser catalog. The impressive variety of compositions by European composers, especially of the baroque and contemporary periods, in such catalogs as Musica Rara, Hugel, Editions Musicales Transatlantiques and Immero Verlag is now presented by the Presser Company. Making these works known to American musicians is another significant contribution to the enrichment of our national musical life.

We believe that the music publisher has a deep responsibility for sustaining and stimulating our richly developing musical culture and we have been and are dedicated to fulfilling this responsibility.

Glenn Cliffe Bainum

Glenn Cliffe Bainum, who holds the honor of being Director Emeritus of the Northwestern University Band, was born in Olney, Illinois, and received his college training at the University of Illinois where he served as Assistant Director of Bands until he accepted a position as Director of Music for Southern Illinois University.

Thousands of alumni who heard his famous bands at Northwestern for 27 years will always remember him as an inspiring and competent director, who gave of himself so that Northwestern would have the finest marching and symphonic bands in the mid-west.

Among his numerous accomplishments are: Director of the 200-piece, electrically illuminated marching band which provides the pomp and pageantry for the Chicago Tribune Annual “All Star” football game at Soldier Field, Chicago, Director of similar pageants for the Philadelphia Inquirer’s Annual “Football Classic” and the Philadelphia “Music Festival”-Associate Conductor of the Grand Rapids, Michigan Symphony Orchestra, Director of the Jazz, Illinois Colored Society; Associate Director of the Chicago North Shore Music Festival and Conductor of a professional band of 75 musicians which gave summer concerts in Grant Park, Chicago.

Probably Professor Bainum’s greatest accomplishment was as a Major in World War II when he was selected to serve as Chief of the Music Branch of Special Services where he personally supervised all music, including bands, in the European Theatre.

Dr. Frederick Fennell

Frederick Fennell joined the University of Miami School of Music September 1, 1965 as Conductor in Residence.

With the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester from 1939 to 1962, Mr. Fennell was Associate Music Director of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra 1942-1946.

In addition to conducting the University of Miami Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Fennell conducts the University of Miami Symphonic Wind Ensemble patterned after the famous group he founded at the Eastman School in 1952.

His work with that group has been recorded in 25 albums of music by the classical division of Mercury Records which also produced a series with Mr. Fennell as conductor of the Eastman-Rochester Pops Orchestra, the London Pops Orchestra, and the Fennell Symphonic Winds.

During his association with Eastman, Mr. Fennell also conducted the school's Symphony Orchestra, Little Symphony, Symphony Band, Chamber Orchestra and Opera Theater. In 1961-1962, he was co-conductor with Howard Hanson for the Eastman Philharmonia's three-month tour of western Europe, the Middle East and Russia, sponsored by the U.S. Department of State.

The American-born conductor started his conducting training at the age of 17 at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., where he was a scholarship student for three summers.

He also was a scholarship student at Eastman, where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees and won an international fellowship in conducting for study in the Mozarteum at Salzburg in 1938. Mr. Fennell also holds an honorary Doctor of Music degree from Oklahoma City University, awarded in 1957.

A private pupil of Serge Kourovsky, at the famous Berkshire Music Center, Tanglewood, in 1942, Mr. Fennell was appointed Kourovsky's assistant in orchestral conducting in 1948.

Guest conductor of numerous orchestras throughout America, he has been cited by the National Association for American Conductors and Composers for outstanding services on behalf of American music.

In the summer of 1965 and 1966, Mr. Fennell conducted The School Orchestra of America on its tours of Europe.
